TRIAL OF NEGRO AT TROY POSTPONED ON ACCOUNT OF JUROR'S ILLNESS

Troy, Ala., April 28.—The sudden illness of a member of the jury in the case of George Howze, negro, charged with the murder of R. L. Corbitt of Montgomery, Atlantic Coast Line special agent, caused a postponement of the trial until May 16. The jury had been out 24 hours considering the case when late Friday night an announcement was made that Mr. Graham, a member of the jury, who was taken ill Friday afternoon was unable to continue work on the case. The jury was then discharged, a mistrial being ordered.

Judge A.B. Foster ordered Howze into court Saturday morning and assigned the new date for the trial. The regular circuit court list of 45 has been summoned again with ten additional veniremen, from which the new jury will be drawn.

The Howze case began Thursday morning with Judge J. S. Williams of Clayton, presiding in the absence of Judge Foster, who went to the University of Alabama to receive his Phi Beta Kappa degree. Attorney Earnest Hill of Dothan, was associated with Solicitor Henry Jones and County Solicitor A. G. Seay, in the prosecution. C. A. Brannen, appointed by the court, represented Howze.

Mr. Corbitt, a Montgomery man, was killed in the Atlantic Coast Line yards about a month ago while he and another officer was watching incoming trains for hobos. Howze and another negro were discovered on top of a freight car.

The two negroes were ordered from the car and when Corbitt made an effort to search Howze, the negro pulled a pistol from his pocket and shot the officer. Corbitt died a short time later in a hospital here.

Howze jumped aboard the same freight train on which he was discovered and was captured a few hours later at Ozark after he had fallen into a ditch after jumping from the train. A pistol was found buried in sand in the ditch. Howze, according to Pike county officers, confessed to the crime.

Rev. J. C. Phares was called to West Alabama the latter part of last week on account of the illness of his father. A message received the first of the week states that his father's condition was not as serious as was thought. Brother Phares' friends at Elba trust that his father may soon recover.

Mr. Jim Whitman's many friends will regret to learn that he has been carried away for an operation for appendicitis. He suffered an attack on Tuesday night and left early Wednesday morning for the hospital. At the time of leaving it had not been decided whether he would stop at Troy or go on to Montgomery.

LOST—last Saturday morning between Creek bridge and town, brown pocketbook, containing two or three dollars in change and currency. Return to J. T. Brantley, or leave at Clipper office.

PASTIME CLUB ENTERTAINED. Mrs. J. Ross Clark was hostess to the Pastime Club at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. M. Polson in West Elba, on Thursday afternoon.

The guests were entertained in the living room and on the spacious porch both being very beautifully decorated with cut flowers and pot plants. After a number of spirited rook games, the hostess served a delicious plate luncheon.

Mrs. M. Solie, of Ozark, was here Saturday visiting relatives. She and Miss Sydney Rainer left Sunday for Mobile where they will spend several days with Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Rainer, place in June.

WILL ORGANIZE SINGING AT COURT HOUSE

The Clipper is requested to announce that a sacred harp singing will be organized at the courthouse in Elba on the first Sunday afternoon in May at 1:30 o'clock.

All singers in the town and surrounding country are invited and urged to come and take part in this sing. It is also urged that every one who has a book bring it with them.

MRS. O. S. RAINER IS HOSTESS TO INTER SE CLUB

The Inter Se Club was very delightfully entertained by Mrs. O. S. Rainer at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. D. Blue, on Friday afternoon. Beautiful cut flowers and ferns were used for decorations. Five tables were arranged for the games.

After the games a delicious ice source was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. H. A. Walters. In addition to the club members, Mesdames Harris Murphree, John Armour, J. C. Mayes, J. B. Amos, W. W. Sanders and Misses Sharpless and Page of Samson, enjoyed the occasion.

CARD OF THANKS

We thank the good people of Elba for the love and kindness shown us during the death of our father, F. M. Dean. His bereaved ones are: S. J. and H. W. Dean, Cora Stephens, Edney Willis, Ora Bell Jackson, Pearl Lee Jacobs and all their families. With love and respect to you all.

—His Children
Dr. and Mrs. J. C. McLeod were here Sunday from Opp.

Mr. J. E. Marley, of New Brockton, was a visitor at Elba Tuesday.

Mr. W. H. Vaughn, of Troy, spent the week end with his mother here.

Mr. C. H. Conner visited in Montgomery Sunday.

We are agents for McCall's patterns, magazines, etc.,
Vaughn & Kendrick

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. White visited Mr. White's mother near Arcus Sunday.

Mrs. J. D. Blue and Mrs. Sam Blue are visiting relatives at Perote, Ala., this week.

Misses Luna Dell and Mattie Belle Bryant and Mrs. Prentiss Walker visited in Dothan last week.

FARRIS-RAINER

The following announcement will be read with much interest by the many friends of these popular young in Elba and throughout Southeast Alabama.

"Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson Farris of Elba, Ala., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Sydney Rainer left Sunday for Mobile where they will spend several days with Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Rainer, place in June."

GOOD CROWD HEARS TEXAS FARMER ON CO-OPERATIVE COTTON MARKETING

A good crowd of farmers and business men were present at the court house Tuesday morning to hear Mr. J. F. Coghlan, the Texas farmer, explain the co-operative cotton marketing plan or cotton pool.

Mr. Coghlan is a member of one of the associations in his home state and was able to tell first-hand of the many benefits to be derived therefrom. The movement now on foot is to have an association in every county in the state, and many counties have already been thoroughly organized. In the first three weeks of the campaign 50,000 bales of cotton have been pledged under the plan, and the aim is to get a total of 100,000 for the state.

Following the address of Mr. Coghlan, a local committee composed of C. O. Helms, W. C. Braswell, E. A. Talbot, M. A. Helms, J. M. Garrett and W. J. R. Ammons, were elected to look after the organization work in the Elba territory. Much interest is being manifested in the movement and the outcome will be watched with interest.

CEMETERY WORKING AT CHEST NUT GROVE

On Saturday afternoon May 13, 1922, there will be a cemetery working at Chestnut Grove, Ala., beginning at 2 o'clock.

All who are interested come on time with tools and a mind to work, as there is quite a lot of work to be done.

Committee
Misses Beatrice Page and Annabel Sharpless of Samson, visited Misses Lois and Sallie Page last week.

Misses Antionette Sanders and Clyde Young visited Miss Sanders' parents in Troy last week end.

Flour is going up every day. We can still sell you guaranteed flour for $1.00 per 24 pounds sack.
Vaughn & Kendrick

Mrs. M. C. Russ, who has been sick at her home on Buford street, is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cosby and Miss Joy Cosby visited relatives in Enterprise Sunday.

Mrs. L. A. Nall, of Bay Minette, is spending a few days in Elba, visiting friends.

Mrs. Y. W. Rainer, of Troy, was in Elba Monday, the guest of Miss Sidney Rainer.

We have a complete and clean line of dress goods, latest styles, patterns and etc. Our prices are right.
Vaughn & Kendrick

ELBA HAS NEW PAPER

The first issue of The People's Tribune, the new paper at Elba, made its appearance on last Thursday. The first issue contained ten pages and was liberally patronized by business men of the town, quite a number of them carrying large advertisements. The issue also carried a liberal amount of local and general news matter.

Mr. H. A. DuBose is editor of the paper. Mr. A. M. DuBose the associate editor, and Mr. M. N. Morrow the business manager. Both of the Messrs DuBose have had several years experience in newspaper work, and are both good printers and machine operators. This is Mr. Morrow's first venture in the newspaper game. The paper will be published on Thursday of each week. As announced in the opening salutation the paper will be democratic, and their aim will be to publish a clean, open journal.

WOODMEN WILL HAVE SPECIAL MEETING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

Crocket Camp No. 459, Woodmen of the World, will have a special called meeting on next Tuesday night, for the purpose of initiating several new members.

Another matter to be taken up will be the final arrangements for the barbecue to be served on Wednesday night. All members of the Camp are urgently requested to be present at the meeting Tuesday night, and are also given an invitation to attend the barbecue. Other Camps in this section are also given a special invitation to visit the Elba Camp on the occasion of the barbecue Wednesday night.

YOUNGER SET ENJOYS PARTY

On Friday evening Fred Kendrick gave a party for a number of the younger social set. The evening was spent in games and contests. Nan Elizabeth Marley furnished some piano selections which were very much enjoyed.

A salad course with an iced beverage was served to: Misses Louise Parker, Elma Talbot, Oleessa Parker, Kayron Campbell, Joy Cosby, Mary Lou Heath, Ruth Phares, Christine Tucker, Nan Elizabeth Marley, and Eena Marley, Diamond Pearson, Edwin Heath, Carlton Larkins, Jake Morrow and Campbell Pearson, of Troy.

DEATH OF MR. F. M. DEAN

Mr. F. M. Dean, one of the county's most widely known citizens, died at his home in West Elba on Monday April 24, after a continued illness. A few years ago Mr. Dean suffered a stroke of paralysis and had never recovered from this, although at times he was able to be up and about.

The news of his death was received with genuine regret by his friends throughout the county. Mr. Dean was one of the leaders in Sacred Harp singing and during his life time had taught hundreds of people in every section of the county.

Mr. Dean was a member of the Masonic Lodge, and members of the order took charge of the body and laid it to rest, using the beautiful Masonic ritualistic service. The interment occurred at Evergreen cemetery.

He leaves a wife and the following children: S. J. and H. W. Dean, Mrs. Cora Stephens, Mrs. Edney Willis, Mrs. Ora Belle Jackson and Pearl Lee Jacobs, and a number of other relatives. To these The Clipper extends sincere sympathy.

Messrs Gus Bryan, Ivy King and Woodham, of Opp, were visitors at Elba on last Friday, having come over in the interest of the Opp Post of the American Legion. The Post at Opp has just been organized with a good membership and an effort is being made to get all ex-service men to join the organization. Quite a few boys in and around Elba have already joined the post at Opp and they are trying to get others. As soon as it is possible a post will be organized here, but in the meantime all ex-service men can join and be a help to the boys at Opp, who are trying to make the organization one of benefit to all the boys in this section.

MRS. MURPHREE ENTERTAINS CLUB.

A prettily party of this week, was that given by Mrs. Harris Murphree when she entertained the Tuesday afternoon Bridge Club.

Tables for bridge were placed in the attractive living room, which was prettily decorated with bowls and vases of sweet peas. Delicious home-made candies were enjoyed while the games were being played, and at the conclusion of the games a salad and iced course was served by the hostess.

FARMERS BROKE? NOT AT ALL SAYS CIST IN REPORT

Contrary to general opinion, the Alabama farmer is far from being broke, according to a statement issued Saturday by F. W. Gist, federal and state statistician for agriculture. The opening of this crop season finds the farmer in this state in much better shape financially than he was a year ago. One of the largest fertilizer concerns in the state discovered rather to its surprise that it has sold twice as much goods as last year and three times as much for spot cash. Its surprise is shown by the fact that an important part of its raw supply is now exhausted. The head of this concern recently called upon the statistician's office for a possible explanation of the presence of so much ready cash in the hands of the farmer when he was reported insolvent a few months ago.

The gist of the reply of Mr. Gist is that the original premises were erroneous; that the Alabama farmer has not been broke. An investigation made by Mr. Gist some time ago disclosed the fact that the surplus crops available for sale from 1921 amounted in value to $89,490,000; the sales of livestock and their products during the year amounted to $26,422,000, while the amount of cotton carried over by the Alabama farmer from the previous year sold at 1921 prices for about $10,640,000. This made a total of $126,552,000 worth of farm products available for sale, against an aggregate from 1920 crop of $110,672,000 or an increase of cash or equivalent receipts of about 15 p. c. From this eighth of a billion the Alabama farmer has been able to pay much of his former obligations, renew his credit and go into the new year with a far greater purchasing power than he had a year ago. On the other side of the account last year's crop was made with less than half the usual expenditures for fertilizers, labor and store bills. He did without the fertilizers and store advances and his labor cost him less than half the year previous. At the same time he made his own feed to a much larger extent than usual, which puts him into this year with less to buy and more to pay with.

Instance Is Cited

As a concrete example, one bank in the Piedmont section carried $1,200,000 of loans by using $400,000 of capital and surplus, $350,000 of depositors money, and $450,000 borrowed from the East. In the first two months of 1922 they had repaid their rediscounts in the east from the payments of farmers on account, and were ready to do business again with the same farmers with renewed faith.

In the meantime peanuts and hay are all gone from the farm which were for sale; the hog season is about over with average sales at fair price; corn has gone to a dollar a bushel to the buyer; truck crops are moving briskly in increased volume; cotton is still 10 cents a pound and planting progress rapidly, with good stands already up in some sections; working weather has been plentiful and used to advantage; farm hands are plentiful at reasonable wages, and the year is started with fair prospects for successful operations.

Failures Not Charged to Farmers
Not a single bank failure in Alabama can be charged to agricultural conditions; on the contrary some banks are beginning their customers to continue their loans. The boll weevil, feeling the general air of prosperity, are out in large numbers to get their share and are praying the rain god to be good to them. Here's hoping that the sun god gets in his work and shines on the cotton patch, while the rain falls on the corn and grass.

JAPS FORTIFYING COAST OF SIBERIA WITH TWELVE INCH GUNS

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Japan has begun fortifying the coast of Siberia with twelve inch guns, which are calculated to make the peninsula impregnable to an attacking fleet.

This sensational charge was made by Alexander Yaskoff, spokesman for the delegation of the Far Eastern Republic of Siberia, who has just received detailed information concerning what the purports to be a plan of the Japanese for holding the Russian peninsula in spite of their promise at the armament conference to withdraw their troops.

ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP UNSUCCESSFUL BANDIT SHOT IN BACK

Birmingham, Ala., April 29.—John Wilcox, an ex-soldier, of Sweet Springs, Missouri, lies seriously wounded in a hospital here as the result of an attempted hold up last night when Wilcox and an unidentified man, who escaped, attempted to holdup the cashier of a restaurant.

A patron snatched a revolver from one of the bandits and fired as the men fled, Wilcox being hit in the back.

A day with a weeder and a horse before the grass gets too big means a week for several men and horses and plows and hoes later on. Don't put it off.

PLAIDS, CHECKS AND STRIPES LEND NOVELTY TO FASHION

IF YOU have a special fondness for plaids, stripes or checks, this will prove a season to your liking. They greet the eye at every turn of fashion's path. Frocks of checked silk gingham show that not all the plaids are reserved for cloth wraps and outing tops. So great is this appeal of checks and plaids, that a certain high-class milliner is lining every one of her hats, except the transparent daisy modes, with a regulation brown and beige checked silk gingham. This is becoming known almost as a trademark for this establishment.

The stores are showing the most wonderful shawl or rather stunner, rug plaid wraps. These are of quality superb, and the plaids are enormous with heavy fringe at collar and bottom all around. The best of these wraps are you can turn them inside out, being reversible.

If you want to arrive at the very top notch of fashion, buy a cape like the one pictured to the left above. These come in many Scotch weaves. The penchant for black and white finds expression in a very fine French serge whose stripes become underneath in that they are combined horizontally and vertically in the one-piece frock of our illustration. This model has that intangible quality called style. The Peter Pan collar with silk tie is especially worthy of mention, because the necktie effects are considered especially smart.

Designers look upon the new checks as a welcome ally in the creation of the three-piece "compos" suit. This by the way, is fashion's way of saying that the costume is composed of two materials—a leading vogue this season.

The top waist part, the collar lining, cuffs and collar proclaim the effectiveness of checks combined with plain fabric. In the three-piece suit, a view of the upper portion of which we give herewith. This model is of brown gingham, silk check on a beige ground combined with beige wool hop-sacking.

DOCTOR KILLS SON, SHOOTS WIFE THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 30.—Dr. W. P. Allen, of Dayton, Ohio, who was last December acquitted of the murder of Burch C. Gardemire, member of a well known Tennessee family after one of the most sensational murder trials ever staged in Rhea county, tonight killed his nine-year old son, W. P. Jr., shot his wife and committed suicide.

The double tragedy occurred three miles south of Dayton, as Dr. Allen, his wife and son, were returning from an automobile ride.

Mrs. Allen said the shooting was done without warning. She told Sheriff Cain Burnett, who made a personal investigation, that Dr. Allen, who was driving the car, stopped at the side of the road, drew his pistol and shot the child through the head and then got out of the seat. She jumped out on the other side, she said, and ran, as Allen started shooting at her.

The physician fired twice at Mrs. Allen and failing to hit her turned the gun on him self and blew out his brains. Both Allen and the child were killed instantly. Mrs. Allen was picked up by a passing motorist and taken to her home, where she immediately collapsed.

PIANIST STRICKEN BLIND DURING PLAY IN MOBILE

Mobile, Ala., April 28.—One of those tragedies so often enacted in theatres but which are not on the program and of which the public often remains in ignorance, occurred at the Lyric Theatre here last night, it became known Friday. Ralph Pollock, a pianist of Chicago and whose mother lives in that city engaged in one of the principal acts at the theatre was suddenly stricken totally blind.

Mr. Pollock was struck on the head by an automobile two years ago, since that time he has had occasional trouble with his eyes, but the everlasting darkness descended upon him Thursday without a moment's warning; such was his courage, however, that he refused to give up his performance.

Miss Mattie Matlye Lippard, the singer with the cast, will take Mr. Pollock to Philadelphia for attention.

FIVE DEAD, TWO WILL RECOVER IN AUTO ACCIDENT

White, Oak, Ga., April 28.—Following an accident late yesterday that cost five lives when an automobile driven by Rev. B. C. Pritchett, pastor of the First Methodist church of this place was struck by a fast train of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, it was announced that two surviving occupants of the ill-fated car, both injured, would recover.

The dead are Rev. B. C. Pritchett, Margaret Sarmon, 14; Pauline Sarmon, 4; Vera Chaney, 14; and Evelyn Pritchett, 10. The injured are Mrs. Pritchett and daughter Elizabeth. Mrs. Pritchett was not injured seriously and while the girl was badly hurt, doctors said she would recover. The two Sarmon children lived at Tallulah Falls, Ga., where their bodies will be taken for interment.
